Comments and MLY Analysis

Student comments and MLY analyses are listed below. MLY is an AI platform that categorizes feedback, by identifying student sentiment and recommendations towards student experience-related topics.

The three most frequent topics or recommendations from each open-ended question are displayed, along with the percent and total number of relevant comments.

Instructors can access their MLY dashboard for more details.

If this section appears empty, either no comments were submitted or comments did not have enough information for MLY to identify insights.

| Ashish always took the time to check in and almost "[Redacted]" down the information to help students better understand it.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| It was very helpful when Ashish printed out practice problems to complete in class, not only did it help me in understanding the content, but it also helped when preparing for exams.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| One of the most effective aspects of my Data Analytics in Agribusiness course was the strong focus on hands-on learning. Rather than only learning concepts, we regularly worked with real datasets and used analytics tools to solve practical problems, which helped me better understand how data is applied in real agribusiness settings. The assignments were especially valuable because they required me to think critically, interpret results, and communicate insights clearly, not just complete calculations. |
| teaching practices were great.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| I liked how we had example practice problems during class                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| The in class practice helped a lot.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| His way of always making sure we understood the content.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Ashish was the best.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| The in-class activities helped a lot to reinforce the concepts that we were learning, and the exams were not made convoluted to the point where they couldn't be understood.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
